

Floor memo: the Wellness Voucher

Clients are already asking about this at the basin and at the till, and most of them have it slightly wrong. Read page one and you can hold your own with a client today. The rest is for when she asks something you have not heard before.

To every stylist and beautician

Re what to say when she asks

IF YOU ONLY REMEMBER ONE LINE

“It’s not money off. You put your own credit in, we add more on top, and it becomes your plan for the year.”

1 HOW IT ACTUALLY WORKS

- 1 She pays us up front, in one go.

Say AED 2,500.

- 2 We add money on top of what she paid.

AED 500 on that plan, and she doesn’t pay for that part. She’s now got AED 3,000 sitting on her account.

- 3 She spends that AED 3,000 with us, one appointment at a time.

Six, nine or twelve months, depending on which plan she bought.

- 4 Every visit, her services come off the balance.

Like money in the bank. Nothing to pay at the till while there’s balance left.

- 5 Balance gone, or months up, and she’s back to paying normally.

So it isn’t free and it isn’t money off. She paid for most of it herself. We put a bit more on top because she paid up front, and because it books her in for the year instead of once. Nobody is asking you to sell this. Reception handles the selling, the cards and the dates. You just need to not say the wrong thing.

p4 The three plans and the numbers p5 What else she gets p6 Where she can spend it

p7 Her home kit, and your commission

p8 What never to say

p9 Cancelling, and her dates

One client, month by month

The same thing again, but as a client you would recognise. If you can talk her through it like this, you will handle most of what comes up on the floor.

Her plan Season of You
She paid AED 2,500
She has AED 3,000 to spend

2 NINE MONTHS, ONE BALANCE

WHEN	WHAT HAPPENS	HER BALANCE
August	She pays AED 2,500 for Season of You. We put AED 3,000 on her account and it runs nine months.	AED 3,000
September	Colour and a blowdry, AED 700. Nothing to pay at the till.	AED 2,300
October	A facial and her nails, AED 500. Again, nothing at the till.	AED 1,800
November	She wants to take home her shampoo and conditioner, AED 320. Her credit is for services, so that comes off her kit money and she pays the difference herself . Her balance isn't touched.	AED 1,800
May	Nine months are up. Whatever she hasn't used stops there, which is why we book her forward every visit instead of hoping she remembers.	Ends

3 THAT ONE CLIENT IS FOUR OF THE RULES

Her credit pays for services. Not products, not extensions, never cash.

Her Self-Care Bonus is narrower than her credit. Beauty, treatments, keratin and blowdries. Never colour.

Her kit money is a second pot. Home care only, and she pays the difference when she collects.

Her months run out. So book her next one while she is still in the chair.

What it is not

Four things clients turn up assuming, and the six words she will say to you that you want to recognise straight away.

Not sure?

Ask before you tell her.

Reception first.

4 FOUR THINGS SHE WILL ASSUME

It's not money off.

She pays our normal menu price for every service. The only extra is the credit we added on top.

It's not a membership.

Nothing renews, nothing repeats. She buys it once, uses it, done.

It's not points or a loyalty card.

It's her own money sitting on her account, waiting to be spent with us.

It's not coming off today's bill.

It's money she already paid us, spread across the next few months.

5 THE WORDS SHE WILL USE

Her credit, or her balance.

The money on her account, hers to spend on services with us. It's a spending limit, not a free pass.

Her Self-Care Bonus.

The extra we added on top, on the two bigger plans. Beauty, treatments, keratin and blowdries only. Never colour.

Confidence Mapping.

The proper consultation where we write her plan and choose her products, before she's in the chair. Every plan includes it, and she can't collect her kit without it.

Her Home Ritual Kit.

Her take-home products. She gets an amount towards it, not a free kit, and she pays the difference when she collects.

Dip Your Toes, Season of You, All-In VIP Year.

The three plans. She'll say the name, not the months. They run 6, 9 and 12 in that order.

Any client, any service, any stylist.

There's no list of who may take her booking and nothing is held back. She can move between you as often as she likes.

The three plans

What she pays, what we add, what she has to spend. You don't have to sell it. You do have to get the numbers right, because a wrong one is the bit she repeats back to us.

Same three plans
in both emirates
Prices include VAT

6 WHAT EACH PLAN COSTS HER

PLAN	SHE PAYS US	WE ADD ON TOP	SHE HAS TO SPEND	RUNS FOR	TABBY
Dip Your Toes	AED 1,000	+ AED 150	AED 1,150	6 months	No, paid in full
Season of You	AED 2,500	+ AED 500 bonus	AED 3,000	9 months	4 × AED 625
All-In VIP Year	AED 4,500	+ AED 900 bonus	AED 5,400	12 months	4 × AED 1,125

7 THREE THINGS CLIENTS GET WRONG

Her months start the day she paid.

Not her first appointment, and not 30 September. Pay in August on Season of You and she's finished in May.

Tabby changes nothing except how she pays.

Four interest-free payments on the two bigger plans. Same credit, same day, same months.

The bonus is part of her balance, not a second wallet.

One number to spend. The only rule on the bonus part is that it can't buy colour, and that's on page 7.

Season of You is the one most women pick. If she asks which one, that is the honest answer, and it is also where the maths works hardest for her.

What else she gets

All of this sits on top of her credit, and it is where most of what she paid for actually is. She will assume you know it, so it is worth a read.

Reception issues the cards, the dates and the serials. You don't have to.

8 INCLUDED, PLAN BY PLAN

ALSO INCLUDED	DIP YOUR TOES	SEASON OF YOU	ALL-IN VIP YEAR
Confidence Mapping, her plan written before she is in the chair	Yes	Yes	Yes
Cards to give away, AED 100 each, emailed in her name	1 card	3 cards	5 cards
Extra credit, once 3 new friends have visited and paid	+ AED 100	+ AED 150	+ AED 200
A birthday treat, at menu value	AED 150	AED 350	AED 750
Money towards her Home Ritual Kit, for 2, 4 or 6 products	AED 100	AED 200	AED 450
Journals	–	Reset Journal	Reset + 8 Pillars
The home skin care set, if her salon has it in stock	–	–	Yes
What the campaign says is on the table	AED 1,500	AED 3,850	AED 7,100

9 THE TWO THAT GET QUOTED WRONG

The birthday treat isn't the same on every plan.

A blowdry on Dip Your Toes. On Season of You, a facial of her choice or a scalp and hair treatment with a blowdry. On All-In VIP Year, the facial and the treatment. In Dubai the birthday facial is the Signature Relaxing Facial at Al Quoz.

The AED 100 cards are for her friends, not for her.

Emailed in her name to whoever she picks, and they only last two months from the day she bought her plan. Tell her to hand them out early, and tell her why.

Where she can spend it

Her credit stays in the emirate she bought it in. Promising her a service your branch does not do is the easiest mistake on this campaign, and the one she takes personally.

Abu Dhabi Saadiyat, Khalifa City A
Dubai Al Quoz, Motor City
 Same plans, same prices

10 HER CREDIT DOESN'T TRAVEL

There's an Abu Dhabi voucher and a Dubai voucher. An Abu Dhabi voucher can't be spent at Al Quoz or Motor City, and a Dubai voucher can't be spent at Saadiyat or Khalifa City A.

If she thinks she bought the wrong one, send her to reception before she spends any of it, while we can still sort it out.

11 WHAT YOUR BRANCH CAN ACTUALLY DO

SHE IS AT	HAIR, COLOUR, KERATIN	BEAUTY, NAILS, WAXING, LASHES, MASSAGE	FACIALS
Mamsha al Saadiyat	Yes	Yes	All, including deep cleanse and LED
Khalifa City A	Yes	Yes	All, including deep cleanse and LED
Al Quoz	Yes	Yes	The Signature Relaxing Facial only
Motor City	Yes	None	None

Deep cleanse and clinical facials, and LED, are Abu Dhabi only. A Dubai client can't drive to Saadiyat to spend her credit on one, so tell her before she asks.

12 THE THREE SHE WILL ASK YOU

"Can I use it at your other salon?"

Inside her own emirate, yes, either branch. Across emirates, no.

"Can my daughter use my credit?"

The credit is hers alone. The AED 100 cards are the part she gives away.

"Can I book any stylist?"

Yes. Any stylist, any service on your branch's menu, as often as she likes.

Her home kit, and your commission

The kit is the one most likely to cause a scene at the till, because it used to be a gift and now it is an allowance. Your commission is the one you are all quietly wondering about, so it is at the bottom.

Say the number before the bag is packed.
Never after.

13 MONEY TOWARDS THE KIT, NOT A FREE KIT

She has an amount towards her products: AED 100 for 2 products on Dip Your Toes, AED 200 for 4 on Season of You, AED 450 for 6 on All-In VIP Year. She pays a difference on every plan.

WORD FOR WORD

“You’ve got AED 450 towards your kit, your products came to AED 910, so that’s AED 460 today.”

No kit leaves the salon until her Confidence Mapping is done and the difference is paid. That is policy, not a preference. If she would rather keep the bag small, she tells us before it is built, not after.

14 TWO POTS, AND NEITHER CROSSES OVER

Her service credit pays for services only.

Her kit money pays for home care only.

Her Self-Care Bonus is the beauty part of her credit: beauty, treatments, keratin and blowdries. Never colour.

- Her credit never pays for home care, or any other product
- Her credit never pays for new hair extensions
- Neither pot ever comes back as cash, and neither is refundable

So an All-In VIP Year client has AED 4,500 for colour, not 5,400, and a Season of You client has AED 2,500, not 3,000. Everything else is fair game: hair, colour, keratin, treatments, blowdries and beauty.

15 YOUR COMMISSION

It is not being taken off you. It moves to when she spends the credit, because the voucher is money sitting on her account. You still get paid.

If you are leaving before she has spent it, ask your branch manager rather than working it out between yourselves.

What never to say

Four sentences that cost us money or trust, and what to say instead. This is not a telling off. Three of the four are things any of us would say without thinking.

"Let me check"
is the right answer,
not a weak one.

16 FOUR YOU NEVER SAY

- ✗ "Free."
She paid for it herself.
- ✗ "Unlimited."
The credit is a spending limit, not a free pass.
- ✗ "Your kit is included."
Say towards. She always pays a difference.
- ✗ "Your bonus can go on your colour."
It cannot. Beauty, treatments, keratin and blowdries only.

17 WHAT TO SAY INSTEAD

- ✓ "You put your credit in, we add more on top."
Instead of free. It is her money and she should get the credit for that.
- ✓ "You've got AED 3,000 to spend with us."
Instead of unlimited. A real number lands better than a vague promise.
- ✓ "You've got AED 450 towards your kit."
Instead of included. Then say what she pays today.
- ✓ "Your credit covers your colour, your bonus is for beauty and treatments."
The one line that keeps the two pots straight.

18 WHEN YOU DON'T KNOW

"Let me check that for you." Then reception. If reception isn't sure, your branch manager. Nobody guesses, and nobody gets it in the neck for asking.

A wrong answer on the floor costs us far more than a five-minute question, and it is the client who ends up disappointed. If the answer isn't in this memo at all, tell Kate, so the next person doesn't have to ask the same thing next week.

Cancelling, and her dates

The two she asks most once she has bought. The first has a reassuring answer you can give on the spot. The second is the one never to guess.

Purchases close
30 September 2026
Plans run into 2027

19 “WHAT IF I CANCEL?” HER CREDIT IS NEVER AT RISK

Cancelling, rescheduling, running late, missing an appointment: none of it touches her balance. Say that first, because it is the real worry underneath the question.

Everything else follows our normal booking policy, unchanged. There is no special campaign rule and there never was.

20 “WHEN DOES MINE RUN OUT?” NEVER GUESS A DATE

You can quote every rule in this memo. Only reception can quote her dates, because there are four on one client and they each start from something different.

WHAT	LASTS	COUNTED FROM
Her plan	6, 9 or 12 months	the day she paid
Her AED 100 friend cards	2 months	the day she paid, not the day she gifts one
Her referral credit	2 months	the day the third friend visited and paid
Her birthday treat	her whole plan	any time inside it, not just her birthday month

21 AFTER 30 SEPTEMBER, ONLY THE BUYING STOPS

She can’t buy one any more. Every other rule in this memo still stands for as long as her plan is running, which for a September buyer is well into 2027.

Telling her in November that the voucher is finished is the same size of mistake as telling her it was free.

If you are not sure, ask before you tell her. A wrong answer on the floor costs us far more than a five-minute question. Any client can now ask any one of you, so one person who hasn’t read this is the whole risk.

Reception first. If reception isn’t sure, your branch manager. Nobody guesses. The full terms she agreed to are on the website, and reception has them printed.
