

The Wellness Voucher

Written for someone who has never heard of this campaign.
Read page 1, and you can hold a conversation with a client today. The rest is there for when she asks something specific.

For: all stylists & beauticians

SAY IT EXACTLY LIKE THIS

“It’s not money off. You place your credit, we add more on top, and it becomes your plan for the year.”

1 HOW IT WORKS, IN FIVE STEPS

- 1 The client pays us money now, in one go.
Say AED 2,500.
- 2 We add extra money on top of what she paid.
AED 500 on that plan, and she does not pay for that part. She now has AED 3,000 sitting on her account.
- 3 She spends that AED 3,000 with us, one appointment at a time.
Over six, nine or twelve months, depending on which plan she bought.
- 4 Every visit, the price of her services comes off her balance.
Like money in a bank account. She pays nothing at the till while there is balance left.
- 5 When the balance runs out, or her months are up, she pays normally again.
So nothing here is free, and nothing is a discount. She paid for most of it herself. We added some on top to thank her for paying up front, and to get her booked in for the whole year instead of once.

WHAT IS ON THE OTHER PAGES

p2	One client, followed month by month	p7	Colour, and the bonus that never buys it
p3	What it is not, and the words she will use	p8	Her home kit, and the two pots p4	The three plans, and what each one costs her	p9	What never to say, and what to say instead

		p12	Her terms, 10 to 18

One client, start to finish

The same thing again, as a story. If you can tell this story, you can answer most questions on the floor.

Her plan: Season of You
She paid AED 2,500
She has AED 3,000 to spend

2 NINE MONTHS, ONE BALANCE

WHEN	WHAT HAPPENS	HER BALANCE
August	She pays AED 2,500 for the Season of You plan. We put AED 3,000 on her account, and it lasts nine months.	AED 3,000
September	Colour and a blowdry, AED 700. She pays nothing at the till.	AED 2,300
October	A facial and her nails, AED 500. Again, nothing at the till.	AED 1,800
November	She wants a full colour correction, AED 1,200. Her plan does not reach that service, so she pays for that one herself , in the normal way. Her balance is not touched.	AED 1,800
May	Nine months are up. Anything she has not used stops there, so we keep her booked in through the year rather than waiting for her to remember.	Ends

3 THAT ONE STORY IS FOUR OF THE RULES

Her credit pays for services. Not products, not extensions, never cash.

Some services sit above her plan. Colour correction is one of them.

She can still have them, she just settles those herself. It is not refused, it is not covered. Say it that way round.

Her months run out. Which is why we book her forward every visit, not at the end.

The words, and what they mean

Clearing up the four things clients assume it is, and the six words she will say to you that you need to recognise straight away.

If you are not sure ask before you tell her.
Reception first.

4 WHAT IT IS NOT

It is not a discount.

She pays our normal menu price for every service. The only extra she gets is the credit we added on top.

It is not a membership.

Nothing renews and nothing repeats. She buys it once, uses it, and that is the end of it.

It is not a loyalty card or points.

It is her own money, sitting on her account, waiting to be spent with us.

It is not money off today's bill.

It is money she already paid us, spread across the next few months.

5 THE WORDS SHE WILL USE

Her credit, or her balance.

The money sitting on her account. Hers to spend on services with us. It is a spending limit, not a free pass.

Her Self-Care Bonus.

The extra money we added on top, on the two bigger plans. It can only go on beauty, treatments, keratin and blowdries. Never on colour.

Confidence Mapping.

The proper consultation where we write her plan and choose her products, before she is in the chair. Every plan includes it, and she cannot collect her kit without it.

Her Home Ritual Kit.

Her take-home products. She gets an amount towards it, not a free kit, and she pays the difference when she collects it.

Dip Your Toes, Season of You, All-In VIP Year.

The three plans. She will say the name, not the number of months. They run 6, 9 and 12 months in that order.

Any client, any service, any stylist.

There is no list of who may take her booking, and nothing about the offer is restricted. She can move between you as often as she likes.

The three plans

What she pays, what we add, and what she has to spend. You do not have to sell this. You do have to say it correctly when she asks.

Same three plans
in both emirates
Prices include VAT

6 WHAT EACH PLAN COSTS HER

PLAN	SHE PAYS US	WE ADD ON TOP	SHE HAS TO SPEND	RUNS FOR	TABBY
Dip Your Toes	AED 1,000	+ AED 150	AED 1,150	6 months	No, paid in full
Season of You	AED 2,500	+ AED 500 bonus	AED 3,000	9 months	4 × AED 625
All-In VIP Year	AED 4,500	+ AED 900 bonus	AED 5,400	12 months	4 × AED 1,125

7 THE THREE THINGS CLIENTS GET WRONG ABOUT THE NUMBERS

Her months start the day she paid.

Not the day of her first appointment, and not 30 September. A client who pays in August on Season of You is finished in May.

Tabby changes nothing except how she pays.

Four interest-free payments on the two bigger plans. She still gets the same credit, on the same day, for the same months.

The bonus is part of her balance, not a separate wallet.

She has one number to spend. The only rule on the bonus part is that it cannot buy colour, which is on page 7.

Season of You is the one most women choose. If she asks which one, that is the honest answer, and it is also the one where the maths works hardest for her.

What else is in each plan

All of this sits on top of her credit. It is where most of the value she was sold actually lives, so it is worth knowing what she is owed.

Reception issues the cards, the dates and the serials. You do not have to.

8 EVERYTHING INCLUDED, PLAN BY PLAN

ALSO INCLUDED	DIP YOUR TOES	SEASON OF YOU	ALL-IN VIP YEAR
Confidence Mapping, her plan written before she is in the chair	Yes	Yes	Yes
Cards to give away, AED 100 each, emailed in her name	1 card	3 cards	5 cards
Extra credit, once 3 new friends have visited and paid	+ AED 100	+ AED 150	+ AED 200
A birthday treat, at menu value	AED 150	AED 350	AED 750
Money towards her Home Ritual Kit, for 2, 4 or 6 products	AED 100	AED 200	AED 450
Journals	–	Reset Journal	Reset + 8 Pillars
The home skin care set, if her salon has it in stock	–	–	Yes
What the campaign says is on the table	AED 1,500	AED 3,850	AED 7,100

9 THE TWO THAT GET QUOTED WRONG

The birthday treat is not the same on every plan.

A blowdry on Dip Your Toes. On Season of You, a facial of her choice or a scalp and hair treatment with a blowdry. On All-In VIP Year, a facial and the treatment. In Dubai the birthday facial is the Signature Relaxing Facial at Al Quoz.

The AED 100 cards are for her friends, not for her.

They are emailed in her name to the people she chooses, and they only last two months from the day she bought her plan. So tell her to give them out early, and tell her why.

Two vouchers, one per emirate

Her credit belongs to the emirate she bought it in. Promising a service her branch does not do is the easiest mistake on this campaign.

Abu Dhabi: Saadiyat, Khalifa City A

Dubai: Al Quoz, Motor City

Same plans, same prices

10 HER CREDIT DOES NOT TRAVEL

There is an Abu Dhabi voucher and a Dubai voucher. An Abu Dhabi voucher cannot be spent at Al Quoz or Motor City, and a Dubai voucher cannot be spent at Saadiyat or Khalifa City A.

If she thinks she bought the wrong one, send her to reception before she spends any of it, while it can still be put right.

11 WHAT EACH BRANCH CAN ACTUALLY DELIVER

SHE IS AT	HAIR, COLOUR, KERATIN	BEAUTY, NAILS, WAXING, LASHES, MASSAGE	FACIALS
Mamsha al Saadiyat	Yes	Yes	All, including deep cleanse and LED
Khalifa City A	Yes	Yes	All, including deep cleanse and LED
Al Quoz	Yes	Yes	The Signature Relaxing Facial only
Motor City	Yes	None	None

Deep cleanse and clinical facials, and LED, are at the Abu Dhabi salons only. A Dubai client cannot travel to Saadiyat to spend her credit on one, so say it before she asks.

12 THE FOUR QUESTIONS THIS RAISES

"Can I use it at your other salon?"

Inside her own emirate, yes, either branch. Across emirates, no.

"Can my daughter use my credit?"

The credit is hers alone. The AED 100 cards are the part she gives away.

"Can I book any stylist?"

Yes. Any stylist, any service on her branch's menu, as often as she likes.

Colour, check her plan first

The same three-step ladder you already book against. Each plan reaches one step further, and includes everything on the steps beneath it.

No cap. No number.
You are reading a step,
not doing a sum.

13 WHICH COLOUR HER PLAN REACHES

Step 1, on all three plans. Soft Blonde and Polished Brunette.

Roots and regrowth, all-over and single-process colour, toner, gloss and glaze, tonal maintenance.

Step 2, Season of You adds it. Signature and Dimensional.

Balayage and freehand placement, highlights and foils, grey blending, multi-tonal depth.

Step 3, All-In VIP Year adds it. Transformation and Luxury.

Full transformation, colour correction and removal, high lift, fantasy colour, big-contrast change.

Cuts, blow-dry, keratin and treatments are not on this ladder at all. They are covered on every plan, at every branch.

14 THREE RULES THAT GO WITH THE LADDER

There is no per-visit colour cap, and no amount to quote.

If anyone still says AED 700, that was a proposal and it was dropped on 19 August.

She can always have a service above her step.

She simply pays for that one herself, in the normal way, and her balance is not touched. It is not refused, it is not covered. Say it that way round, because "you cannot have it" is both wrong and a lost booking.

Say it before the appointment, never at the till.

If you cannot tell which step a service sits on, ask reception before she sits down. Then tell Kate, so the ladder gains the name rather than the same question coming back next week.

15 THE ONE THAT WILL CATCH YOU OUT

Her Self-Care Bonus never buys colour. It is for beauty, treatments, keratin and blowdries only.

So an All-In VIP Year client has AED 4,500 to spend on colour, not 5,400. A Season of You client has AED 2,500, not 3,000. It cannot go on her balayage.

Her home kit, and the two pots

This is the change most likely to cause a scene at the till, because the kit used to be a gift and now it is an allowance.

Say the number
before the bag is packed, never after.

16 MONEY TOWARDS THE KIT, NOT A FREE KIT

She has an amount towards her products: AED 100 for 2 products on Dip Your Toes, AED 200 for 4 on Season of You, AED 450 for 6 on All-In VIP Year. She pays a difference at every plan.

WORD FOR WORD

“You’ve got AED 450 towards your kit, your products came to AED 910, so that’s AED 460 today.”

No kit leaves the salon until her Confidence Mapping is done and the difference is paid. That is real policy, not a preference. If she would rather keep the bag small, she tells us before it is built, not after.

17 TWO POTS, AND NEITHER ONE CROSSES OVER

Her service credit pays for services only.

Her kit money pays for home care only.

- Her credit never pays for home care, or any other product
- Her credit never pays for new hair extensions
- Neither pot ever comes back as cash, and neither is refundable

Everything else is fair game, within her plan: hair, colour on her step, keratin, treatments, blowdries, and beauty as far as your branch offers it.

18 YOUR COMMISSION

It is not taken away. It moves to when she spends the credit, because the voucher is money sitting on her account. You still get paid.

If you are leaving before she has spent it, ask your branch manager rather than inventing an answer.

What never to say

Four sentences that cost us money or trust, and what to say instead. Then the two questions clients ask most, and the honest answer to both.

"Let me check"
is the right answer,
not a weak one.

19 FOUR THINGS YOU NEVER SAY

- ✗ "Free."
She paid for it herself.
- ✗ "Unlimited."
The credit is a spending limit, not a free pass.
- ✗ "Your kit is included."
Say towards. She always pays a difference.
- ✗ Any number for colour.
Colour is a ladder of services, never a budget.

20 WHAT TO SAY INSTEAD

- ✓ "You place your credit, we add more on top."
Instead of free. It is her money, and she should get the credit for that.
- ✓ "You've got AED 3,000 to spend with us."
Instead of unlimited. A real number is more attractive than a vague promise.
- ✓ "You've got AED 450 towards your kit."
Instead of included. Then say what she pays today.
- ✓ "Your plan covers balayage, let me check the rest with reception."
Instead of a number. Her step, not a sum.

21 THE ANSWER WHEN YOU DO NOT KNOW

"Let me check that for you." Then reception. If reception is not sure, your branch manager. Nobody guesses, and nobody is judged for asking.

A wrong answer on the floor costs us far more than a five-minute question, and it is the client who pays for it in disappointment. If the answer is not in this memo at all, tell Kate, so the next person does not have to ask the same thing next week.

Cancelling, and dates

The two questions clients ask most often once they have bought. The first has a reassuring answer you can give straight away. The second is the one never to guess.

"Let me check"
is the right answer,
not a weak one.

22 "WHAT IF I CANCEL?" HER CREDIT IS NEVER AT RISK

Cancelling, rescheduling, running late, missing an appointment: none of it touches her balance. Say that first, because it is the real worry underneath the question.

Everything else follows the salon's normal booking policy, unchanged. There is no special campaign rule, and there never was.

23 "WHEN DOES MINE RUN OUT?" NEVER GUESS A DATE

You can quote every rule in this memo. Only reception can quote her dates, because there are four on one client and they each start from something different.

WHAT	LASTS	COUNTED FROM
Her plan	6, 9 or 12 months	the day she paid
Her AED 100 friend cards	2 months	the day she paid, not the day she gifts one
Her referral credit	2 months	the day the third friend visited and paid
Her birthday treat	her whole plan	any time inside it, not just her birthday month

24 AFTER 30 SEPTEMBER, NOTHING CHANGES BUT THE BUYING

She can no longer buy one. Every other rule in this memo still applies for as long as her plan is running, which for a client who bought in September is well into 2027.

Telling her in November that the voucher is finished is the same size of mistake as telling her it was free.

What she agreed to, 1 to 9

The voucher terms, in plain words, in the order she reads them on the website. She sees all of this before she pays, so you should know it before she asks.

Two vouchers: one per emirate

Purchases close: 30 Sept 2026

Current as of 20 August 2026

1 How long she can buy for.

She can buy until 30 September 2026. Credit bought inside that window can be spent at any point in her own months, including after the window closes.

2 Where she can spend it.

Abu Dhabi voucher: Mamsha al Saadiyat and Khalifa City A, the full hair and beauty menu at both, including all facials. Dubai voucher: hair at Al Quoz and Motor City, beauty services and the Signature Relaxing Facial at Al Quoz only. Motor City is a hair salon. Deep cleanse and clinical facials, and LED, are not available in Dubai.

3 Which voucher she holds.

Her credit, her bonus and everything included come with the emirate she bought in, and only there. They cannot be spent at the other emirate's salons or swapped for the other voucher. If she bought the wrong one, we put it right before she spends any of it.

4 The plans, and how long each lasts.

AED 1,000 becomes 1,150 for 6 months, AED 2,500 becomes 3,000 for 9 months, AED 4,500 becomes 5,400 for 12 months. The months start on the day she paid. Dip Your Toes is paid in full; the other two can be four interest-free Tabby payments, if Tabby approves her.

5 What her credit pays for.

Services at her own salons, at the menu price on the day of the appointment. Not home care or any other product, not new hair extensions, and never cash. On the two bigger plans, the Self-Care Bonus part is for beauty services, treatments, keratin and blowdries only.

6 Colour, and which services her voucher reaches.

Colour follows the salon's own three-step ladder, and each voucher reaches one step further, including everything beneath it. A service above her step can still be booked, and she settles that one in the usual way, outside her credit. There is no per-visit spending limit on colour of any kind. If a service is not named on the ladder, we tell her which step it sits on before her appointment, never at the till.

7 The gifts that come with it.

They are extra, on top of her credit, and they have no cash value. Physical gifts depend on stock, and we may swap one for something of similar value.

8 The Home Ritual Kit money.

AED 100, 200 or 450 depending on her plan, towards the home care we recommend for her. Anything above it is paid when she collects the kit, and we tell her the difference before anything is packed, never after. If she would rather keep it small, we build the fewest items that will work. This money cannot be spent on services, her service credit cannot be spent on home care, and anything left over has no cash value and ends when her voucher ends.

9 The cards she gives to friends.

Sent by email, in her name, to the people she chooses. Nothing is posted or printed. One card of AED 100 on Dip Your Toes, three on Season of You, five on All-In VIP Year. Services only, no products, no cash, and they last two months from the day she bought her voucher, not from the day she hands one over, with the date on the card. So tell her to give them out early. Her own credit cannot be passed to someone else unless Tara Rose agrees.

What she agreed to, 10 to 18

The rest of the terms. Nothing here is a campaign rule we invented; it is what she accepted when she paid.

If this memo and anything else disagree, this memo is newer. Raise it with Kate.

10 The referral reward.

She gets it once the required number of new clients have actually come in and paid, not just booked. It then lasts two months from that day, on its own clock, so referring a friend late in her plan does not shorten what she earns. Never exchanged for cash.

11 Her birthday treat.

Used inside her months, and subject to us having the appointment free. In Abu Dhabi the birthday facial is any full facial she chooses from the Abu Dhabi menu. In Dubai it is the Signature Relaxing Facial with lifting massage at Al Quoz. The prices shown in the campaign are our normal menu prices, there to show what the whole voucher is worth.

12 Appointments, cancellations and no-shows.

The salon's normal booking, cancellation and no-show policy applies, unchanged. There is no special campaign rule and there never was. Holding a voucher, or having priority booking, does not guarantee a particular stylist, therapist, date or time.

13 When it ends.

Her credit and her bonus are used inside her months: six on Dip Your Toes, nine on Season of You, twelve on All-In VIP Year, each counted from the day she paid. Two things run on their own clocks and are not covered by that: the friend cards and the referral reward. Anything unused after her date is gone, and is not paid out in cash or extended unless Tara Rose agrees.

14 Refunds.

Once she has bought it, it is not refundable, except where the law says otherwise. Credit and bonuses are never exchanged for cash.

15 Other offers.

Her credit, her bonus and her gifts cannot be combined with another promotion, discount or offer unless Tara Rose says so.

16 Paying with Tabby.

Where Tabby is offered, the approval and the payment plan come from Tabby, on Tabby's terms. Paying that way does not change the amount of credit she gets.

17 Prices.

Every price and value is in UAE Dirhams and includes VAT.

18 The general clause.

Tara Rose can reasonably tidy up or clarify these terms to run the campaign, but never in a way that takes away credit a client has already bought. Buying a voucher means she accepts the terms.

If you are not sure, ask before you tell the client. A wrong answer on the floor costs us far more than a five-minute question. Any client can now ask any one of you, so one person who has not read this memo is the whole exposure.

Reception first. If reception is not sure, your branch manager. Nobody guesses.
